

American History Supplementary Films Permission Form

The primary instructional materials used in 8th grade American history include our American Nation textbook, maps, magazine articles, and other historical documents. In addition to the primary instructional materials, there are a variety of supplementary materials which are used to extend or expand our studies. Our supplementary materials include two feature films.

Glory: Classroom Edition - 1989, originally rated R, professionally edited for schools
Dances with Wolves - 1990, rated PG-13

In accordance with the School Board policies governing the use of supplementary materials, alternate assignments can be provided for our films.

If you would like to see additional information about these materials — summaries, ratings explanations, etc. — before granting permission for their use, please go to following web page:

<http://www.mrcushing.net/classinfo.html>

If you don't need to read the details web page before granting permission, please sign in the box below. Cut, and return the lower portion of this sheet to Mr. Cushing.

Thank you, and please feel free to e-mail me with any questions you may have.
