

Name: _____ Per. _____

Map Analysis
1836:
Republic of Texas

1. This map represents the United States in what year?
2. What were the names of the two commanders of the Mexican army?
 - 1.
 - 2.
3. Today, the Red River forms part of the border between Texas and _____.
4. How can you tell from just the map that The Battle of The Alamo was a defeat for the Texans?

Name: _____ Per. _____

Map Analysis
1836:
Republic of Texas

1. This map represents the United States in what year?
2. What were the names of the two commanders of the Mexican army?
 - 1.
 - 2.
3. Today, the Red River forms part of the border between Texas and _____.
4. How can you tell from just the map that The Battle of The Alamo was a defeat for the Texans?

5. The name of which Texas city is a clear indicator that the Texans still considered themselves to be Americans, and descendants of the American Revolution?

6. Why do you think that the United States moved troops from Fort Jessup, to Nacogdoches during the Texas revolution?

5. The name of which Texas city is a clear indicator that the Texans still considered themselves to be Americans, and descendants of the American Revolution?

6. Why do you think that the United States moved troops from Fort Jessup, to Nacogdoches during the Texas revolution?